1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Hung.

Hung discloses an elastic member having a body with a hollow passage and grooves enclosing an interior surface and an exterior surface. The grooves have sections that grow wider as they travel from an inner side to an outer side.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sahs in view of Hung. Sahs discloses the claimed invention except for the grooves. Hung teaches a vibration absorber that has the recited grooves. It would be obvious to provide Sahs with grooves that grow wider from an inner side to an outer side, in view of Hung, for the purpose of providing more vibration absorbing ability.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 1, 9, and 17 are all indefinite in reciting "it" in the last paragraph of each claim. It is not clear as to what "it" refers to.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
